Chapter 1: Ceres

Ceres in Virgo:

You were taught to be loved you need to be helpful, doing something for others, and even to do things right, was necessary. As a result you nurture by doing things for others affection, this is not a bad thing, you are doing it because you want to be of service to them and show your love. You enjoy doing the tasks that are shared in a household. You have high standards and can even be a perfectionist who is okay as long as it's kept healthy and doesn't become conditional to love. Working in the food service industry is great for this placement, as well as the health care industry.

Ceres in 2nd house:

You may make money in areas ruled by Ceres; food service, cook-chef, bartender, nannie, care giver, grief counselor, gardener. Providing food and shelter helps you feel nurtured and is how you nurture others. You value being able to help others. Shopping for things gives you lots of comfort, be careful not to get out of hand, as objects do not translate to happiness, as in hoarding.

Ceres Trine Moon:

You are a comforting person to be around, as your always making sure everyone is being taken care of. This position works well with hostess work, restaurant work, and care-taking and service industry people. There is talent around food preparation and cooking as well as growing vegetables or fruits. There is harmony in your emotional life and your home life. Mother was a strong influence on your life. Your home life is very positive.

Ceres Sextile Neptune:

People see you as such a nice person who always is thoughtful and knows just what it is they need to make them feel comfortable. You are a selfless giver with great sympathy for those you love and care for. You can be highly creative with food and are instinctually guided to good nutrition, knowing what your body needs. You just have to remember to listen to it as it can also be easy to choose the fancy, and fun foods. This is a great aspect for aromatherapy, utilizing it and being an aroma therapist, it would also favor anesthesiologists.

Ceres Conjunct Pluto:

You have a very deep connection with those you care about, intense is a good word. Be careful to not be to controlling or over protective which this aspect can imply. You feel on a soul level which many might not understand or relate to. When others are having a tough time or in heavy grief you are there to help and face the situation head on, where others might have left. You have had to deal with many endings in relationships in life from an early age, you would be an excellent grief counselor, therapist, or psychologist. Abandonment issues may be an issue you have to learn to cope with, stemming from your mother as she was very emotional as well. There may be issues with endings in relationships leading to obsession. Food and eating can be an obsession whether too much or too little.

Ceres Conjunct Juno:

You have or will have a good relationship with your spouse as far as caretaking, and nurturing go. He or she will be a great caretaker with you, and you will also be a great nurturer for him/her. This can relate to a career or life path as a house wife or stay at home dad, or as a caretaker.

Ceres Opposition Chiron:

Issues in your relationships may be around smothering, caring too much, co-dependency. Be sure to take care of yourself first, then others. You may have to be a caretaker to the one your with, or vice-versa. Sometimes the roles switch seemingly like clockwork. Learn to integrate your healing needs and not to project them to others or partnerships. Food challenges or allergies can be a result of this aspect.

Chapter 2: Pallas

Pallas in Leo:

This placement is highly creative whether it is in the arts, starting your own business, you possess huge potential in these areas. You are a great leader as you see how to lead and motivate others to do what you need done, you would make a great boss. You are best in leadership, or being self-employed, it may be too hard to be the employee. You know how to create. Creative visualization is a good practice for you to look into as you are natural at it. You may have to show strength and bravery in your work. This placement favors, the performing arts, music and acting.

Pallas in 1st house:

You have a strategist type personality, a planner, very wise, and broad minded. People come to you for counsel, and advice. Your intuition is high with this placement, and creative potential can border on genius. You possess a powerful personality. Your appearance may be somewhat androgynous with a first house placement.

Pallas Trine Jupiter:

You have excellent talents for teaching, training and coaching others. As a mentor you give positive advice and acknowledgment. You see they big picture strategy for improving social systems or how to teach others to expand on what you taught them. You help others keep an open mind and to explore the possibilities that even you haven't yet thought of. An Uncle may be a positive influence on your life.

Pallas Square Neptune:

There can be a challenge in getting what you want if you visualize negative outcomes, or are not very clear of your intentions. This can lead to confusion and even illusion or delusion. Be very positive in your thinking and you will create what you desire without all the stressful situations you envision. It can be "get out of your own way". Fear can be what trips you up. Focus on the positive to bring out positive outcomes. Be sure to articulate to others what it is you are trying to accomplish.

Pallas Conjunct Asc.:

This aspect gives you strong abilities in strategic planning, and your foresight is highly accurate. You are very intuitive and most likely even psychic. Your ability to see the big picture helps you out in every circumstance and people seek you out for your guidance. Areas of expertise may include, detective skills, political awareness and interest, intellectual -abilities and healing.

Chapter 3: Juno

Juno in Virgo:

Your partner will be analytical and very practical, a very good organizer and down to earth. You may be a little meticulous in finding the right person to be with. Remember no one is perfect, rather we all are. Your relationship may involve you working together. Health conscious may be a thing you both enjoy, eating right, going to the gym. You are looking for a "clean", straight-laced partner. You need someone who can help organize you.

Juno in 2nd house:

Marriage may be a symbol of monetary security for you, as it has for many others over the years. Marriage is also strongly valued in the second house. You may make money as a marriage officiant, wedding planner, or by selling women's goods.

Juno Square Sun:

There may be many challenges in your personal relationships, with ego being a difficult thing to deal with in relationships. You attract strong willed individuals and you are also strong willed, and don't like being challenged or told what to do. You actually love your freedom and can have a difficult time committing to a relationship with one person. It's mostly that you just don't want to be controlled, or have to answer to a partner which in the long run will cause problems for you. When you get about 30 you may be more compromising than you are before thirty. You want total commitment and may be a little jealous and revengeful if your other half is not completely loyal. Be sure to be clear on defining what commitment means between the two of you.

Juno Trine Moon:

Your relationships that are long term and committed- like in marriage will be very harmonious and easy going. Shared vision of what commitment is will coincide with you both. You have emotional compatibility with your partner making you feel emotionally secure in your relationship. Your Mother and your other half will get along famously with each other and there is lots of family support for the two of you.

Juno Sextile Neptune:

Your partner will be very romantic, and dreamy in nature, with a strong sense of spirituality. Marriage will be very romantic for you, as you and your spouse seem to tune in to each other almost psychically. You enjoy music and the arts together this is an ideal marriage. Your spouse inspires you in your creativity and spirituality.

Juno Conjunction Pluto:

You attract rather intense relationship partners, who tend to try to control you. Be careful of manipulative power plays in your committed relationships, trying to control one another is not fun for either party and doesn't give much happiness in the marriage. Marriage for you will certainly be transformative for you, as you learn how to truly share with another individual on this planet. Your marriage will be very deep, giving you lots of soul growth. This aspect indicates that you don't think a relationship or marriage should end until "death do us Part".

Juno Opposition Chiron:

In order to have healthy committed relationships, you will need to address your own healing issues, before you can have a healthy relationship. This will make your relationships go so much smoother and happier, than if project healing responsibilities onto your partner. There may be issues over past relationships that did not honor the vows of the relationship. This can prevent you from going forward in partnerships until resolved. Start to trust again.

Chapter 4: Vesta

Vesta in Virgo:

This sign may be the home to Vesta. Work and service are your calling and what you are very committed to. It is a form of self-sacrifice, and you may literally devote your work to a higher calling as in the clergy, or being a nun. Self-denial in sex as in celibacy or the exact opposite, high sexuality with multiple partners may take place.

Vesta in 2nd house:

You are dedicated to providing substance and all the survival needs for yourself and your family. You may seem over focused on this area but it is what is needed. Vesta can be related to money as in "invested", and this can manifest literally into investing into stocks etc.

Vesta Trine Mercury:

You can excel as an expert in what you choose to focus on, as you leave no stone unturned in your research. You may have in depth knowledge in certain fields of interest, and retain this information in your memory bank.

Vesta Trine Venus:

One result of this aspect is that your investments will pay off and bring you money. This is what you are invested in, will bring you what you value, money, love, abundance. This is a very good aspect for love life, falling in love with the person who is dedicated to you. It can also be a monetary good thing as you made a wise choice in your investment.

Vesta Conjunct Juno:

You like being in a long term committed relationship, such as marriage. You will be devoted and spiritually connected to your marriage partner, indicating that you will be together for the long haul, totally dedicated to one another.

Chapter 5: Chiron

Chiron in Pisces:

You are keenly intuitive and very imaginative this leads you to a spiritual life. Your biggest concerns really are spiritual in nature, becoming a better person, healing those in need, and tuning yourself to the highest spiritual vibrations. You have interest in the law of attraction, creative visualizations, and will become the master and teacher of these subjects. This placement is good for shamans, reiki masters and psychics.

Chiron in 8th house:

You have had a life of many deep transformational experiences, ranging from death of loved ones at an early age, to having some type of abuse or extreme control at the hands of another. Many with this placement experience paranormal experiences in their lifetime that opens them up to wanting to research more in this area. Sex and sexuality often needs to be healed. Career choices can be tantric or sex therapists, adult industry, or psychologist, detective or mortician.

Chiron Square Sun:

You have issues with your own self-worth that needs to be healed. There may have been no recognition from your parents. They may have been too busy for you and as a result you did not get the attention you deserved. This created low self-esteem and a feeling of not deserving. Nothing can be further from the truth. You are a valued part of society and the world, and need to shine your inner light for all to see. Take the challenge and get out there and show the world who you are.

Chiron Sextile Moon:

You make a great counselor, and caretaker with this harmonious aspect. You have a soothing personality to others making them feel at ease and welcome in your presence. Your mother was soothing and healing towards you encouraging emotional support for you and your endeavors. You instinctively understand others emotional needs putting you in favor with them making relationships especially with women harmonious.

Chiron Trine Neptune:

You are a very creative and inspired individual with many great healing talents, even psychic abilities. Energy work in healing is favored such as Reiki. These techniques are good for you and would be good to learn to help yourself and others. Naturally you're highly psychic with this aspect especially in areas of healing. It would be wise to learn more about psychic development, prayer and meditation. Creative outlets are also very healing, music, dance, art, singing are some outlets suggested for you.

Chiron Opposition Pluto:

Relationships may be in need of healing for you. You attract powerful individuals who try to dominate or control you, creating the deep need for you to heal your inner wounds. There may be power and control issues bouncing back and forth with your partner until you heal this deep seated condition from childhood. Read books on the law of attraction to help let go of the need to feel in control.

Chiron Opposition Juno:

You may feel you don't want to get married or be in a committed relationship until you are healed or in better shape, either physically or psychologically. You may have differing philosophies or belief systems than your partner. The issue may be that you don't want to get married until you have your education under your belt, such as "after I get my doctorate, I want to get married".
