HIDDEN MESSAGES

INTRODUCTION

We are all looking for unconditional love. Most of us never got it. When we fall in love we think, "Now, finally, here is someone who will give me the (unconditional) love I've always wanted."

So we marry. Then it starts---because we're not programmed for love. Instead, we are programmed to duplicate our parents' relationship. Because of this programming, even if we found someone who loved us unconditionally, we would have to push them away.

How can we attract what we are not programmed to receive? We can't---until we take a conscious look at what we are programmed to attract. Only then can we change our lives.

This program is designed to help us do just that.

Your birth chart interpretation is based on the positions of the planets at the time of your birth. For the benefit of students of astrology, these positions, along with other technical information, are listed below:

HIDDEN MESSAGES

PROGRAMMING

She was an extremely beautiful woman in her mid-thirties. She was also an extremely successful business woman---equal to or better than many men in her profession. She'd come to me for a consultation because she was considering remarrying. Although her two previous marriages had been unsuccessful, she longed for a man with whom she could be happy. She was in my office because she honestly wondered if that were possible.

In the course of the consultation, she shared with me that her mother was successful in her career. Message: BE A SUCCESS IN YOUR CAREER. She also shared that her mother had been married several times, so she was programmed for multiple marriages. Each time my client married, her mother encouraged her to leave her husband. Her mother's message was: MARRY, BUT DON'T STAY MARRIED. As a child, my client saw her mother win every argument with each of her husbands. Message: ARGUE WITH MEN AND WIN. My client's father was strong, but distant and unaffectionate. Message: MEN ARE DISTANT AND UNAFFECTIONATE. My client created this situation in her marriages and felt unloved by her husbands. Each of her stepfathers put up a good fight, but ultimately they left. Message: MEN WILL PUT UP A GOOD FIGHT AND THEN LEAVE.

The combination of verbal and non-verbal messages produced a woman who resented men, yet kept turning to them to make her happy. Because she was programmed for marriage to be stormy and her husbands to leave, she created just that. She married strong men and wound up emasculating them. She was looking for love, but her programming would not let her keep it.

Her fiancé played right into the program. He was stubborn and determined. He was not a success in his career, although he had great potential. Each time he came close to success, he'd fall short. His ambitions were high, but he became a dilettante. He made a great impression, but had no money. His programming explained it all. At one point in time, his father had been very important and successful in his career. When the young man was just a boy, his father had been nominated for an extremely prestigious award. Winning this award would have meant financial security for the rest of his life. Unfortunately, another nominee was selected as the winner. From that point on, the son was programmed to COME CLOSE, BUT FALL SHORT, and that's exactly what he did in every area of life.

His parents had not gotten along. His proud, stoic father had given him the message that THE WOMAN SHOULD PUT THE MAN FIRST. He also felt that MEN WERE MORE INTELLIGENT THAN WOMEN.

These two were programmed for each other. Here was a chauvinist up against a powerful woman; a business failure up against a business success. Neither one, however, was programmed for a warm, loving relationship, though that's what they both wanted. When faced with a situation like this, the first reaction might be to discourage a marriage, since it seems doomed to failure. Yet, these two people were attracted to each other precisely because they could give one another what each was programmed to receive. And, in spite of their programming, they loved one another. This love could, if they chose, be the impetus to help them see and release their programming and create a warm, loving relationship.

This situation occurs all the time. Our hidden messages are so deeply ingrained in our subconscious that we respond to them unknowingly. For example, if one of your hidden messages is that YOU CANNOT BE HAPPY WHILE A FAMILY MEMBER IS UNHAPPY, you will find that you are never happy because there is always someone who needs your help. Even if you are miles away, just knowing that a relative might be unhappy about something can upset you. After awhile, this message can be triggered simply by the suggestion of happiness--as soon as you feel good you have to feel bad. This totally destroys your enjoyment of life.

Another common message is that YOU WILL NEVER BE AS GOOD AS YOUR FATHER (OR MOTHER, OLDER SISTER, YOUNGER BROTHER, ETC.). If you received this message, you will see to it that you fall short of your goals so as not to surpass him. If he has not been much of a success in his life, where does that leave you?

We have been told that if we will live up to the potential indicated in the natal chart, our lives will work. Why, then, are so many lives not working? The answer is simple: they ARE working, or at least the hidden messages are working, running our lives. By knowing what these messages are, we can be free to be our highest and best, to be limitless.

YOUR FATHER'S MESSAGES

THE SUN

Your father takes you from the security of the home and teaches you how to act in society. He helps you form your public image, the face you want the world to see. The Sun represents your father.

Sun in Gemini:

Your father taught you to think and use your brain. While he may not be a talker, he is certainly an idea man.

Sun in 11th house:

Your father taught you to be a friend, and to make your friends the center of your life. The catch is that HE is to be your close friend. This means he assumes the role of both father and friend, which can be confusing. He also taught you to be an authority to your friends. As a result, you want to lead any group in which you are involved--and the group turns to you for leadership.

Sun-Mercury angle more than 10 degrees:

Your father taught you to stand back from situations and people in order to see them objectively. This applies to him as well. Because of your objectivity, you are able to converse with others without constantly bringing the conversation back to yourself and your opinions.

Sun in soft aspect to Jupiter:

Your father is friendly, outgoing and generous. He has lots of friends and is well-liked. He is philosophical and sees things optimistically. He passed all this along to you.

Sun in soft aspect to Saturn:

Your father is strong and dignified. You respect him and, as a result, all authority figures. They, in turn, respect you. You have an old head on young shoulders. Your father taught you to assume responsibilities and not consider them a burden.

YOUR MOTHER'S MESSAGE

THE MOON

The most important person in your early years is your mother. Because the Moon rules both the mother and the subconscious, her influence reaches you on the deepest levels. It might be said that since the subconscious is the repository of all past-life experiences, your mother triggers this memory, which is why her influence is so strong.

Your mother's main message is to look for emotional security. The house in which the Moon is placed natively indicates that area of life in which you hope to find this security. You received this message either directly or indirectly. She told you where to look for it, and you spend the rest of your life looking for it where she said it would be. The sign in which the Moon falls describes your mother, as do the aspects to the Moon. The aspects also tell you if it will be easy or difficult to find the security you seek. Because the Moon is changeable, the promise of emotional security is elusive. Perhaps this is why you keep returning to the place where it is supposed to be, hoping it will be there this time.

Keep in mind that these messages are not necessarily verbal. You can receive them from her actions as well as her words; by her presence as well as her absence.

Moon in Capricorn:

Your mother takes life seriously and feels a strong sense of responsibility for home and family, which she passed along to you. She wants to be a respected authority figure. When she gets depressed, she builds a wall around herself for protection, which can make her cold and distant. You may find yourself doing the same thing. You have such a strong sense of responsibility that you find it hard to enjoy yourself. Being an authority gives you the feeling of power which, in turn, makes you feel secure.

Moon in 6th house:

Your mother said your emotional security need can be fulfilled through service to others, by being needed, and by being busy at all times. You may find that you are protective of and emotional about your work. You may be a surrogate mother in your work, nurturing others in some way. You may find security in being healthy--or unhealthy--depending on your mother's message. Your true freedom comes from letting go of your emotional attachment to the task at hand and by serving God in all that you do.

Moon in hard aspect to Jupiter:

This aspect tends toward overindulgence and exaggeration. Your mother buys love and compensates for lack of it. You tend to exaggerate your moods and attract people who overdo a good thing. You may overwhelm people by coming on larger-than-life.

Moon in soft aspect to Neptune:

There is a natural spiritual attunement between you and your mother. She gave you the desire to serve unselfishly. She also gave you a love of music, art and beauty, as well as an appreciation of metaphysics. You both have creative and artistic potential. You feel she is special. You may have a mystical quality about you that attracts people.

Moon in soft aspect to Pluto:

There is a strong, psychic bond between you and your mother. You understand each other's feelings. She gave you positive, healthy messages about sex which now gives you the freedom to enjoy yourself. You are a very magnetic person and channel your emotions well. Your intuitive ability is strong. You are nurturing without being smothering.

Moon in hard aspect to North and South Nodes:

Poor rapport with your mother and women in past lives hinders your relationships with them in this one. The tendency to emotionally hang on to the past can prevent success.

MESSAGES FROM AUTHORITY FIGURES

Saturn is reality and often, restriction. In the natal chart, it can represent your mother, father, grandparents, family ---anyone who imposes a restrictive influence on your life and tries to teach you reality through discipline.

Saturn in Aquarius:

The authority figures in your life are humanitarians, but still want to do things their way. They may feel frustrated by society. They are set in their ways and sure they are right. They passed this along to you.

Saturn in 7th house:

The authority figures in your life gave you the message that while partnership involves restriction, it is your responsibility to be married. The hidden message is that you are to be married to them. As a result, you may, unknowingly, see your mate as an authority figure and feel restricted and confined in your marriage.

Saturn in soft aspect to Sun:

The authority figures in your life taught you respect for tradition, family and elders. You are treated with respect because that is what you give others. You are mature and willing to assume your own responsibilities. You have good leadership potential.

Saturn in hard aspect to Mercury:

The authority figures in your life have curtailed your thinking. You think you're being realistic when, in fact, you're being negative. The fear that something may go wrong has you looking for it. As a result, you see flaws. This is what the authority figures in your life taught you to do. At times, the fear of what you might see can prevent your looking. Ultimately you do look because you want to be prepared for the worst.

Saturn in hard aspect to Venus:

You never felt loved by the authority figures in your life, so you are not programmed to give love or receive it. Because your authority figures cannot be happy, they do not want you to be, either. As a result, there is a cloud of sadness which colors every happy occasion in your life--if you're happy, you have to be unhappy. They also gave you the message that love involves hurt, responsibility, and possibly loss. As a result, any time love comes close, you sabotage it and push it away.

Saturn in hard aspect to Uranus:

You are torn between breaking free and assuming your responsibilities. You rebel against being told what to do, and resent any restriction to your freedom. Yet, you feel compelled to go along with the program, even half-heartedly. The authority figures in your life felt trapped between two generations, and you may feel the same way. You can identify with older as well as younger people, traditional and non-traditional groups. You vacillate between towing the line and breaking free. The double message you received from your authority figures is: rebel, but conform.

Saturn in hard aspect to Neptune:

The authority figures in your life were insecure about their own abilities and taught you to doubt your own. You are afraid to look too closely at your dreams, possibly because every time you reached for success, they held you back. The result is that you are afraid of success and sabotage it when it comes too close.

PLUTO

Pluto is another indicator of your mother's ---and sometimes your grandmother's---message. Pluto represents total change, control, and transmutation. It is the all-or-nothing planet. Pluto deals with all the mysteries of life: life itself, where it originates, where it goes when it leaves this plane. Pluto and the aspects it makes in your chart describe your mother's message about and your attitude towards sex.

Pluto's house placement indicates where there can be a power play with your mother, where you will both try to dominate and control, and where you can bring about a total transformation. You control because you don't trust. You don't trust the people who rule the house in which Pluto falls.

While Pluto represents your mother's message, it can also represent your grandmother's. Use whichever word applies to you.

Pluto in Virgo:

Pluto in Virgo gives you the need to be in control of your health and your work. However, the need to be in control can adversely affect both. At some point, you may be able to totally let go of the need to be in control. This will improve your health and allow you to truly serve.

Pluto in 2nd house:

Your mother's message is to hang on to your money and possessions, yet she is to be your greatest possession. She taught you to control with money and make it your tool, but she can control you financially. You can transfer control from mother to money. Then it is money which controls you. At some point in time, your values will undergo a total change and you will be free of your maternal message regarding money and values.

Pluto in hard aspect to Sun:

At the time of your birth your parents were involved in a power play. There was a lack of trust between them. They could not forgive and forget. This led to their resentment and vindication, which set the tone for your own relationships. You are manipulative and controlling, and find it hard to trust others. You do not forget past hurts. You want to dominate and lead, and resent those who do.

Pluto in soft aspect to Moon:

There is a strong psychic bond between you and your mother. She may have had a similar bond with her mother. You find it easy to understand and get along with women. Your feelings for your home and family are deep and positive. You are a magnetic person with a strong intuition. There is a natural mothering quality about you that does not smother or possess.

Pluto in hard aspect to Mars:

You may feel strong, yet suppressed resentment at the control your mother exerts over you, and an equally strong need to retaliate. Past hurts are hard to forget, which creates the desire for vindication and conquest. Your competitive side and sexual energies are strong and can get out of hand, which can force you into precipitous action. The underlying feeling of this aspect is KILL OR BE KILLED.

Pluto in hard aspect to Uranus:

You rebel against any attempts to restrict your free will. This message was given to you by your mother. Your psychic ability is strong, but you are suspicious. This can cloud your perception. At times, you can go to extremes in your need for independence.

Pluto in soft aspect to Neptune:

There is a positive psychic bond between you and your mother. Your spiritual side is active, and you have vision and insight.

THE FOURTH AND TENTH HOUSES

The fourth house relates to home, family and your deepest emotional security needs. It describes the parent to whom you look for the fulfillment of these needs. Traditional astrology gives the mother rulership over this house because she has been the nurturing parent, the one who stayed home and cared for the family. Today, though, mother often pursues a career, and it is father who provides the emotional security.

The tenth house rules your career, your public image and the authority figure(s) in your life. It is your father who teaches you how to get along in the world outside the home. As such, the tenth house traditionally relates to him.

There are no set rules as to which parent rules which house. Sometimes one parent fulfills both roles. Other times the parents reverse roles. Each chart must be analyzed individually to determine which parent rules the fourth and which rules the tenth.

The relationship between the fourth and tenth is important because your home, family and the security they give you determine how you will do outside the home. If you don't get what you need from one parent, you may turn to the other, who may or may not be able to fulfill your needs. Lack of emotional security in the home can lead to compensation in the career. The career, then, can become a parent replacement.

The signs on the cusps of the fourth and tenth houses add another dimension to understanding your parents. When trying to determine which house is which parent, it is helpful to exaggerate the descriptions enough to allow yourself to be able to make a distinction between the two.

Scorpio on 4th Cusp:

This parent's message is to work at something lucrative. He/she is stubborn, indulgent, possessive and needs a routine.

Taurus on 10th Cusp:

This parent is secretive and controls the family through manipulation.

Mercury in 10th house:

This parent is a thinker and may be talkative. He/she is curious and might enjoy travel.

Venus in 10th house:

This parent is charming and loving, unless Venus is poorly aspected, in which case the parent is self-indulgent and tries to "buy" your love.

Neptune in 4th house:

You do not see this parent clearly. He/she is either an inspiration or a disappointment; spiritual and giving, or martyred and living in a make-believe world. If the latter, he/she can escape into alcohol, drugs, food, etc.

THE ROVING DELEGATES

The signs represent principles to be learned. The house cusp on which a sign falls tells us the area of life in which that principle will be learned. Usually, the principle manifests in more than one area of life, since the ruler, or ROVING DELEGATE of that sign, carries the message to another house.

It makes no difference what sign falls on the cusp in question. We simply link the sign with its ruler's house position. For example, with Virgo on the fourth and Mercury in the eleventh, the ruler of the fourth is in the eleventh. The same thing is true if Taurus is on the fourth and Venus is in the eleventh. The same concept applies in each case.

The house in which the fourth or tenth house ruler falls gives us more information regarding that parent's messages.

Ruler of 4th house in 2nd:

This parent influences your values and acts like he or she is your possession. Your emotional security need is fulfilled through money and possessions. This parent may give you money or contribute to your income in some way.

Ruler of 10th house in 10th:

The authority figure in your life is very important to you, and you are strongly attached to him or her. You are also strongly attached to leadership, responsibility and authority.

A FINAL WORD

Now that you've looked at your programming, you may be wondering if it will control you forever or if there is something you can do to change it, to move past it. There is. You can release it and yourself to God in complete faith and trust and just BE. When you come from BEING, you are coming from unconditional love. You see beauty everywhere. You are one with the whole and know that you are protected and loved.
